cooking at home has taken on a whole new level, both in the sense of the quality of ingredients people are using, but also how that food is prepared. Not all cooking methods yield the same results. In particular, steam and steam assist ovens are gaining traction, praised for retaining food's nutrients in the cooking process, and refrigeration has grown more important amidst the rise of natural and organic ingredients and the need to best preserve fresh food.

are seeking technologies with a smaller carbon footprint and better impact on the environment. Induction cooking is increasingly popular as an eco-friendly solution, and Bertazzoni has doubled its induction range sales over the past two years.

Today's kitchens are also the latest symbols of aspiration and self-expression. Because of this, there's a greater shift away from "cookie cutter" homes and towards experience-driven spaces that reflect personal design tastes and lifestyle.

Stylish kitchens aren't generic; they're the imaginations of designers and homeowners, brought to life through colors, materials, textures, finishes, and more. Bertazzoni is the market share leader in color appliances within its competitive set and is seeing sustained popularity in its colorful ranges. Within North America, red is the best-selling color within Bertazzoni's warm color palette, with the percentage share of red compared to all colored range sales nearly doubling over the past 24 months. Overall, color range sales continue to grow, with an annual increase of approximately 20% per year.

Whether their focus is on the aesthetic or on functional updates like wellness or eco-friendly driven design, homeowners are creating spaces that will spark joy in their day to day experiences with Bertazzoni.
