

Pella® Windows & Doors of South Carolina

Innovative solutions to make your design dreams a reality

Options to suit your home and your budget.

Pella is one of the few companies that offers you the choice between wood, vinyl, and fiberglass materials, in addition to diverse styles from picture windows and casement to double-hung and more.

Pella® Impervia

Complement your home with windows that provide exceptional durability, beauty and peace of mind. Pella's proprietary, low-maintenance fiberglass is tested to withstand some of the harshest conditions, including extreme heat and sub-zero cold, damaging UV rays and seacoast environments.*

Pella Impervia fiberglass awning windows are engineered for lasting durability. Our fiberglass material is rot-free, corrosion-free and one of the best insulating materials, helping to keep your home comfortable no matter the season. Hinged at the top and venting open at the bottom, awning windows are available with the patent-pending Easy-Slide Operator hardware.

Pella® 250 Series

Pella 250 Series windows have built-in innovations that help them to be strong and efficient. With multichambered frames and reinforced sashes, 250 Series window frames are 52% stronger than ordinary vinyl and resist warping and twisting.* They are made to last with Pella's fade-resistant vinyl formula, which is performance tested for excellent weathering, durability and color retention.
